

Kaufmann & Company

CLEAN-UP SALE

of Dressing Sacques and Kimonos

At Sweeping Price Reductions

$1.50 Lingerie Dressing Sacques, of fine sheer lawn, large sailor collar, prettily trimmed in Swiss, Val. insertion and edge-to-day. 89c

$3.00 Fancy Dressing Sacques and Short Kimonos, yoke effect of wide Swiss beading and ribbon run, trimmed with Val. and Swiss insertion in numerous designs; to-day. $1.98

$2.00 Kimono of serpentine crepe, solid grounds, flower designs, shirred yoke and sailor collar effect; to-day. 95c

Social and Personal

Mrs. Thomas Burton Snod and Misses Mildred and Virginia Grace will leave the latter part of the week for a three weeks' stay at White Sulphur Springs, where a social function will be given in their honor on the evening of August 5.

The women of Grace Street Baptist Church will give a lawn party this evening from 5 to 10 o'clock in the yard of the Richmond Art School, at Belvidere and Grace streets. The yard will be strung with lanterns and a committee will serve refreshments at small tables and booths.

Culmination of Romance.

A very pretty little romance culminated July 29 in Washington, D. C., when Miss Lora Hartwell Marshall, of Nacm, King George county, Va., became the bride of Charles Henry Stone, of Washington.

They met some three years ago in Port Royal, Va., where Mr. Stone had charge of the public school. Miss Marshall was one of his pupils and a warm friendship sprang up between them, which resulted in their marriage today. They will make their home in Washington, where Mr. Stone has a position in the city post-office.

To Ride Sweet William.

A figure of interest at the Charlottesville horse show this week will doubtless be Miss Katherine Elkins, of Washington, whose mount will doubtless be the brown gelding, Sweet William, from the stables of Julian Horst, of "The Oaks".

Other horsewomen who are expected to ride during the two days of the exhibition include Mrs. Reginald Brooks, of Boston and Mirador, one of the langhorne girls. Mrs. Allen Butts, of Castle Hill, but now of Happy Creek Farm, Gordonsville; Mrs. Sidney Elkins, who recently came to Albemarle from New York to reside, Miss Roma Houston, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Julian Mor and Mrs. William W. Osborne, of Gordonsville.

Cadet Sutherland and His Sister.

An item of interest appearing in the society columns of a Baltimore paper says: "Calvin Sutherland, Jr., who attends the Virginia Military Institute, is spending vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sutherland, of 5222 Wayne avenue, Germantown, at Camp May, where they are spending the summer. Miss Phoebe Sutherland, who has been abroad since the first of the year, is touring the Alps now and will return home late in September."

Elkins Cottage at White Sulphur.

Mr. Stephen B. Elkins has taken a cottage at White Sulphur Springs for the rest of the summer and is occupying it with Miss Katherine Elkins, Miss Elkins, and Richard Elkins, Jr., and Mrs. Elaine Elkins arrived at the Springs by automobile last week.

Mountainous Bungalow Party.

Miss Katherine Elkins, of Baltimore; Misses Virginia and Myrtle Hudson, of Lincoln; Miss Louise Miller, of Winchester, and Miss Margaret Hoffman, of Woodstock, are the guests of Miss Ruth Hudson, at her home in Lincolnton, Va., after spending a week at the mountain bungalow of her father, Dr. William S. Hudson.

Miss Gordon's Gold Stockings.

Miss Alice Gordon, of New York, is summering at Bretton Woods, N. H., where both of gold stockings are the subject of some conversation at this point of the compass. The fact that the picture of a golden bazaar is worked on the front of each of the stockings adds somewhat to the general wonder and admiration of the bazaar.

Young men and girls, as well as women, gaze on the golden stockings with unfeigned interest as Miss Gordon trots lightly up and down the hotel stairs or sits on the piazza in the moonlight.

"That's just the kind a girl ought to wear when she's climbing up the golden stairs," observed one cross-eyed maid after a quick glance at Miss Gordon's glittering ankles.

Two different pairs of these golden stockings have been worn by Miss Gordon in the last week. Each pair cost $100, it is said. There is a barely noticeable difference in the tint. They were woven, according to report, from real cloth of gold, which is as valuable as the weavers are watched with the utmost care while at work.

A Great Lace Find.

It is said on authority that lace will be next season's fad. The French reports of the coming of lace wearing gowns of that material, and in some cases the fad has become so popular that it is by no means an uncommon sight to see women attired in lace stockings, shoes made of lace uppers, lace hats and lace gowns.

Fancier skirts, still the mode, as well as the new pleated skirts are being manufactured entirely of lace, and the sheath skirt, that some modistes said would not live another season, is still in demand. The effect when it is made of lace is startling. Lace stockings in countless colors are also fashionable, and a think will be liked in America, although I would not care to predict the reception lace shoes will receive here.

Girls at Ta-Ku Cottage.

Reported at Ta-Ku Cottage, Ocean View, are:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. J. F. Baughman, Mrs. S. Weese, Mrs. E. V. Lipscomb, Mrs. A. Hawkes, Mrs. J. Whitte, Mr. J. J. Welch, Miss Susan Whitte, Miss Ruth Moles, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. J. Joseph, Clark, Crozet, Va.; Mrs. L. K. Woodhouse, Staunton, Va.; Mrs. L. M. Hignam, Miss Kathleen Hignam, Mr. Herbert Hignam, Mrs. H. A. Gray, James Henry Gray, Garland Gray, North Carolina; Mrs. Frank E. Adams, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. D. D. Dalton, Mary C. Dalton, Miss Leona P. Dalton, Richmond, Va.; Joseph T. Engleby, Miss Tilen Engleby, Roanoke, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richardson and family, Miss Nona Burton, Richmond, Va.; Miss Lillian I. Williams, Miss Carolyn E. Williams, Baltimore, Md.; J. A. Marked, Norfolk, Va.; Charles M. Grandy, Jr., Mutt and Jeff, Petersburg, Va.

Headquarters to Be Opened.

Equal Suffrage League headquarters, 509 East Broad Street, closed for the month of July, will be reopened August 1. Informal weekly meetings will begin Thursday afternoon of this week at 5 o'clock, and the secretary will be glad to see members and visitors.

A Ellen Glasgow Number.

The August number of Book News Monthly has a beautiful reproduction of Miss Ellen Glasgow's portrait, painted recently in the New York studio of Prince Pierre Troubetzkoy. The leading article in the magazine is entitled "Ellen Glasgow: her Books and her Personality," and is written by Mrs. Alice M. Tyler. The picture is a splendid example of a celebrated painter's art. The article touches on the Virginia environment of Miss Glasgow's books and pays a high tribute to the writer.

Delightful Picnic.

A delightful picnic was given by Miss Lillian Wright in honor of Miss Lois Hundley, of Richmond. Those present were Misses Agnes Wright, Alma Luck, Lillian Turner, Louise Moore and Emma Lee Priddy; Edward Rice, Raleigh, Va.; Vaughn Priddy, Horace Barnes, of Richmond; John and Sam Carr, Charlie Luck, Joe Potts, Charlie Taylor and Maurice Lancaster. The crowd was chaperoned by Mrs. C. D. DeJarnette to the South Anna River, To-Day's Bride.

The bride will be given away by her brother, H. H. Davis, and the attendants will be Miss Willie Davis, maid of honor; Miss Rowena Daley, of Wrightsville, Ga.; Miss Lillian Daley, Miss Lulu Jenkins and Miss Christina Sanders, of Mountville, Ga., bridesmaids; John Cass, of Jackson, Miss., best man;

Misses Vera Kamper and Dorothy Spratt, flower girls; A. M. Beck, H. S. Daley, D. L. Jenkins, M. W. Woodall, ushers.

In and Out of Town.

A. P. O'Brien is spending several weeks in Savannah, Ga., where he was sent in the interest of the Phosphate Mining Company, of Richmond.

George O. Reuh is critically ill at the Retreat for the Sick.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Fore, Miss Blanche Fore and Winifred Fore are spending the summer on the coast of Maine.

Misses Blanche and Virginia Thompson and Miss Alice McChesney, of Richmond, spent the week-end with the Misses Hudson, on Fayette Street, Staunton, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Rodgers, of South Richmond, who have been visiting Mr. Rodgers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rodgers, have returned home. Mrs. Rodgers and grandson, Spencer, accompanied them on their return and will spend two weeks.

Miss Carrie Coleman is visiting friends in New York and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Henry C. Hardy, of Hamilton, N. Y., and her brother, W. N. Gillette, of Richmond, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rawle Wadsworth in Freemason Street, Norfolk, Va.

Jack Waller has returned to Richmond after a delightful trip to his former home near Wideswater, Va.

C. H. Kirk and Hoge Tainforth are spending several days of this week with friends in Middlesex county.

Miss Eleanor Montgomery has joined her family at Verdon, Va., after spending two weeks at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. B. B. Valentine and Miss Meade, who have been at Warm Springs, Va., since the first of July, are expected home early in August.

Mr. Tom Hundley is improving from a severe illness at St. Luke's Hospital.

W. A. Crenshaw, who has been confined to his room for several days, was out again yesterday.

Mrs. George A. Haynes, who has been the guest of Mrs. E. O. Perton, of Augusta county, will spend August with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Montgomery, near Verdon, Va.

Mrs. Nora Purcell Leary is spending the midsummer season at Henry Clay Inn, Ashland, Va.

Mrs. Thomas Christian Gordon is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Sally Nelson Robins, at 216 East Franklin Street.

Miss Elizabeth R. Barksdale will visit relatives near Durham, N. C., during this week.

Penton Taylor, who has been spending some time in the South and the North Carolina mountains, has returned to Richmond.

Mrs. Robert Moncreu, of Stafford

POISON OAK.

"Poison Oak affected my whole face and closed up my eyes. Milam cured me in three days."—S. B. Berkely, Danville, Va. "Milam cured my three boys of Poison Oak in less than a week."—C. S. Anderson, Danville, Va. Many others will testify, but try it at our risk. Ask your druggist.

The Smart Colonial.

The most popular model of the season—in tan only. Now on sale reduced to $3.49.

SEYMOUR SUE

BUY LEATHER GOODS AT ROUNTREE'S

703 E. BROAD ST.

Dreyfus & Co.

Capable salesladies wanted for Dresses, Gowns, Suits and Coats. None but experienced women considered for the position.

201 East Broad Street.

Special Offerings Today

IRYAN SMITH'S BIG STORE

HAMMOND

Virginia's Largest Florist

Emblems, Vreaths and Sprays of unusual quality—at moderate prices. Phone Road 630.

20% to 30% Off on REFRIGERATORS

Jones Bros. & Company, Inc.,

1418-1420 East Main Street

For Oil Cooking and Heating Stoves

See N. KLEIN & SON, INC., 630 East Broad

GOOD FOR THE EYES

THE S. CALESKI OPTICAL CO.

Main and High St. 233 East Broad Street

Children's White Canvas Button Shoes, $1.00

ALBERT STEIN

KING OF SHOES, 5th and Broad

Hopkins Furniture Co.,

7 West Broad St.

Cash or Credit.

Bien Hardang

Women's and Misses' Outer Garments

JURGENS

DETROIT GAS RANGES, ALASKA REFRIGERATORS, OLD HICKORY FURNITURE, SOLD ONLY BY

Watch Repairing

Our watchmakers are experts in their line—and we give most service at the lowest possible cost.

Bring your watch here.

SCHWARZCHILD BROS.

Search of Family Records Does Not Support His Claims.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

—who, according to newspaper accounts, is on the eve of a marriage with Miss Linda Arnold, daughter of Olney Arnold, of Providence, former Democratic nominee for the Rhode Island governorship.

The young man is represented as head of the historic House of Strozzi, and as the owner of the famous palace of that name in Florence. Says the present head of the Strozzi family is Don Leone Strozzi, seventh Prince of Corsico and Duke of Badolza, a retired captain of the Italian navy, married to a daughter of the Princely House of Corsini.

Don Leone succeeded to the family honors on the death of his children's elder brother, the late Prince Piero Strozzi, in 1907, and has two daughters, Donna Antonietta, and Donna Beatrice, who have both already made their debut, but none have any children, the title will at his death pass to his brother, Don Roberto Strozzi, who is married, and a retired captain of Italian cavalry.

The two Strozzi brothers have a sister, Donna Luisa, married to Count Francesco Guicciardini, former Secretary of State and Cabinet Minister, and their mother, Donna Antonietta, Princess Strozzi, is a "Duchess of Palatino" or Dowager Queen Marguerite.

This completes the list of the living members of the noble House of Strozzi, the oldest family of the Patriarchate of Florence, its antiquity being greater than that of the medieval city itself, the name having been that of a family then already ancient, in the still existent records of the year 1202.

Nor does the famous Strozzi Palace at Florence belong, as alleged, to the young man who is styled in the papers as Marquis Max Strozzi. In fact, the palace, which was built by him, it is claimed, mentioned in his will that if ever his family were to become extinct, the palace should pass to the city of Florence.

The late Prince Piero di Strozzi, therefore, in bequeathing it with the consent of his two surviving brothers, to the city and state, was only following a tradition of his family, that great remote ancestor who created this great architectural marvel.

The Strozzi figure in almost every page of Italian history. One of them, as Lord Rector of the University of Florence in 1466, devoted a part of his fortune to the collection in Greece of ancient manuscripts, and it is to him that the world is indebted for the recovery and preservation of the "Iliad" and other works of Pindar.

Leonardo da Vinci, who was a friend of some thirty French ships which sailed for Scotland in a vain attempt to rescue Queen Mary, a short time before she fell into the hands of her cruel enemy, Queen Elizabeth.

Piero di Strozzi was assassinated on the eve of his marriage by Duke Alfonso I. of Ferrara, who was a love rival of his bride, Filippo di Strozzi, the admiral of the French fleet who, taken in battle off the Azores by the English, was killed. The Duke's plank, by the Spanish Admiral, Santa Cruz, Piero di Strozzi was killed as Marshal of France at the siege of Ravenna, and his death was the most famous of the Italian lives in history as the greatest adversary of Duke Cosmo di Medici. Imprisoned by the latter, and subjected to frightful tortures, he put a sudden end to his sufferings by seizing the sword of one of the guards, and running himself through the body before reaching the hands of his executioners.

The above is written in compliance with a request for information regarding the young man who is staying at the Hotel de la Ville at Paris, and who, since no mention of the Strozzi name is to be found in the pages of the Almanach de Gotha, or any work of reference, is not a member of the Princely House of Strozzi, which, as I have just explained, will become extinct on the death of the two sole surviving male members, Don Leone and Don Roberto. How the young man in question can be the head of the family, the owner of the palace, as stated in the paper, is difficult to understand. It might be therefore suggested that the parents of any American heiress whom he seeks in marriage, should first give their consent, secure either from the Italian embassy at Washington or from the head of the Government, Department of Affairs, where all the consular Hierarchies, where all the nobles of nobility are officially registered, an assurance that his marquisate finds a place among the nobiliary dignities of Italy. This recommendation is made because for some time past a young Swiss from the Italian-speaking Canton of Ticino, has been heard claiming himself off as a titled member of the House of Strozzi. (Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.)

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. Fletcher

WESTPOINT VA.

PORT RICHMOND

Offers the best chance for you to double your money quickly by investing in real estate.

LITTLE FRUIT FARMS

BIG MONEY MAKERS.

Address O. D. L. West Point, Va.

Thermos Bottles, $1.00 each.

The E. B. Taylor Co.

23 W. Broad Street and 1011 East Main Street.

Furniture, Carpets and Stoves

ROTHERT & CO.

Fourth and Broad

J. B. Mosby & Co.

White Goods 59c yard, reduced from 75c.

Office Furniture

Sydner & Hundley, Inc.

Grace and Seventh.

50c jar "Cream Lilac," fine for skin, 39c at

Tragle's

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND

Ladies Ask Your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Beware of cheap imitations. No other pills are so effective. No other pills are so safe. No other pills are so pleasant. No other pills are so reliable. No other pills are so famous. No other pills are so well known. No other pills are so sold by druggists everywhere.

Statute of Limitations Keeps Kiss from Mosby

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., July 30.—Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate soldier, who is visiting in Bristol, which was his home when he volunteered in the Civil War, to-night was given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lewis by the Bristol Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Several of his comrades were in attendance.

Colonel Mosby to-day informed a prominent Bristol woman, whom he knew as a girl, of her grandchild, who has him on his return from the war. He distinguished himself in the service. She confessed to the debt, but inquired if she could not, after more than fifty years, plead the statute of limitations.

Held on Robbery Charge.

County Policeman Bendall last night arrested a man who at first gave his name as John Thompson and later as Jim Long. He will be charged in the Magistrate's Court of Henrico county with breaking into the residence of E. E. Netting on the River Road and robbing the quarters of a foreman in the upper end of the county.

Marquis Max Strozzi MYSTERIOUS PERSON

COUNCIL MUST ELECT MAYOR

(Continued From First Page.)

who had served in the City Council within a year be eligible to election at the hands of the Council.

Dabney Enters Race.

At the City Hall last night where meetings were held, both of the Common Council and Board of Aldermen, the appointment of Mayor Richardson as judge of the Hastings court was the general topic of discussion. The Board Street paving matter was up for debate and the building was crowded with men prominent in city affairs.

Members of the Council were quietly discussing the prospects of candidates for the ground was William T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce and former member of the Board of Aldermen, who has already secured pledges of support from a number of members of both branches.

There was said to be a strong undercurrent in favor of former Mayor McCarthy, but in view of his outspoken criticisms of the Council at various times, some members were pronounced in their opposition. The more conservative members generally were making no pledges, refusing the overtures of the friends of Mr. Dabney until other candidates have shown themselves. L. Z. Morris, who is known as a "strong" man, has a strong support among business men, and if he entered the fight would make a formidable candidate.

McCarthy May Offer.

While former Mayor Carlton McCarthy is not a candidate for Mayor he will accept it if it is the wish of the City Council. He makes no secret of the fact that he had rather he Mayor of Richmond than to hold any other office, and said yesterday that the entire of his position and that of Governor of Virginia he would not hesitate two seconds, but would become the city's chief executive.

Captain McCarthy states that he will do nothing whatever to try to secure his election. But if the Council sees fit to choose him, he could not refuse. He is now one of the candidates for the Administrative Board, and his chances of nomination in the September primary have been considered good. Therefore, his withdrawal from this fight would lessen the number of candidates, and would, from this standpoint, be favored by the other aspirants.

The term of Captain McCarthy preceded that of Mayor Richardson, which is about to expire. His salary as Mayor would be less by $1,400 than if chosen to the Administrative Board. Soon after it became known that the Mayor had been appointed, many lawyers and business men suggested that McCarthy was a candidate for Mayor. Mr. Ansell did not authorize any announcement, and stated that he was not an avowed candidate, as reported.

Watch Repairing

Our watchmakers are experts in their line—and we give most service at the lowest possible cost.

Bring your watch here.

SCHWARZCHILD BROS.

Search of Family Records Does Not Support His Claims.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

—who, according to newspaper accounts, is on the eve of a marriage with Miss Linda Arnold, daughter of Olney Arnold, of Providence, former Democratic nominee for the Rhode Island governorship.

The young man is represented as head of the historic House of Strozzi, and as the owner of the famous palace of that name in Florence. Says the present head of the Strozzi family is Don Leone Strozzi, seventh Prince of Corsico and Duke of Badolza, a retired captain of the Italian navy, married to a daughter of the Princely House of Corsini.

Don Leone succeeded to the family honors on the death of his children's elder brother, the late Prince Piero Strozzi, in 1907, and has two daughters, Donna Antonietta, and Donna Beatrice, who have both already made their debut, but none have any children, the title will at his death pass to his brother, Don Roberto Strozzi, who is married, and a retired captain of Italian cavalry.

The two Strozzi brothers have a sister, Donna Luisa, married to Count Francesco Guicciardini, former Secretary of State and Cabinet Minister, and their mother, Donna Antonietta, Princess Strozzi, is a "Duchess of Palatino" or Dowager Queen Marguerite.

This completes the list of the living members of the noble House of Strozzi, the oldest family of the Patriarchate of Florence, its antiquity being greater than that of the medieval city itself, the name having been that of a family then already ancient, in the still existent records of the year 1202.

Nor does the famous Strozzi Palace at Florence belong, as alleged, to the young man who is styled in the papers as Marquis Max Strozzi. In fact, the palace, which was built by him, it is claimed, mentioned in his will that if ever his family were to become extinct, the palace should pass to the city of Florence.

The late Prince Piero di Strozzi, therefore, in bequeathing it with the consent of his two surviving brothers, to the city and state, was only following a tradition of his family, that great remote ancestor who created this great architectural marvel.

The Strozzi figure in almost every page of Italian history. One of them, as Lord Rector of the University of Florence in 1466, devoted a part of his fortune to the collection in Greece of ancient manuscripts, and it is to him that the world is indebted for the recovery and preservation of the "Iliad" and other works of Pindar.

Leonardo da Vinci, who was a friend of some thirty French ships which sailed for Scotland in a vain attempt to rescue Queen Mary, a short time before she fell into the hands of her cruel enemy, Queen Elizabeth.

Piero di Strozzi was assassinated on the eve of his marriage by Duke Alfonso I. of Ferrara, who was a love rival of his bride, Filippo di Strozzi, the admiral of the French fleet who, taken in battle off the Azores by the English, was killed. The Duke's plank, by the Spanish Admiral, Santa Cruz, Piero di Strozzi was killed as Marshal of France at the siege of Ravenna, and his death was the most famous of the Italian lives in history as the greatest adversary of Duke Cosmo di Medici. Imprisoned by the latter, and subjected to frightful tortures, he put a sudden end to his sufferings by seizing the sword of one of the guards, and running himself through the body before reaching the hands of his executioners.

The above is written in compliance with a request for information regarding the young man who is staying at the Hotel de la Ville at Paris, and who, since no mention of the Strozzi name is to be found in the pages of the Almanach de Gotha, or any work of reference, is not a member of the Princely House of Strozzi, which, as I have just explained, will become extinct on the death of the two sole surviving male members, Don Leone and Don Roberto. How the young man in question can be the head of the family, the owner of the palace, as stated in the paper, is difficult to understand. It might be therefore suggested that the parents of any American heiress whom he seeks in marriage, should first give their consent, secure either from the Italian embassy at Washington or from the head of the Government, Department of Affairs, where all the consular Hierarchies, where all the nobles of nobility are officially registered, an assurance that his marquisate finds a place among the nobiliary dignities of Italy. This recommendation is made because for some time past a young Swiss from the Italian-speaking Canton of Ticino, has been heard claiming himself off as a titled member of the House of Strozzi. (Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.)

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. Fletcher

WESTPOINT VA.

PORT RICHMOND

Offers the best chance for you to double your money quickly by investing in real estate.

LITTLE FRUIT FARMS

BIG MONEY MAKERS.

Address O. D. L. West Point, Va.

Thermos Bottles, $1.00 each.

The E. B. Taylor Co.

23 W. Broad Street and 1011 East Main Street.

Furniture, Carpets and Stoves

ROTHERT & CO.

Fourth and Broad

J. B. Mosby & Co.

White Goods 59c yard, reduced from 75c.

Office Furniture

Sydner & Hundley, Inc.

Grace and Seventh.

50c jar "Cream Lilac," fine for skin, 39c at

Tragle's

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND

Ladies Ask Your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Beware of cheap imitations. No other pills are so effective. No other pills are so safe. No other pills are so pleasant. No other pills are so reliable. No other pills are so famous. No other pills are so well known. No other pills are so sold by druggists everywhere.

Statute of Limitations Keeps Kiss from Mosby

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., July 30.—Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate soldier, who is visiting in Bristol, which was his home when he volunteered in the Civil War, to-night was given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lewis by the Bristol Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Several of his comrades were in attendance.

Colonel Mosby to-day informed a prominent Bristol woman, whom he knew as a girl, of her grandchild, who has him on his return from the war. He distinguished himself in the service. She confessed to the debt, but inquired if she could not, after more than fifty years, plead the statute of limitations.

Held on Robbery Charge.

County Policeman Bendall last night arrested a man who at first gave his name as John Thompson and later as Jim Long. He will be charged in the Magistrate's Court of Henrico county with breaking into the residence of E. E. Netting on the River Road and robbing the quarters of a foreman in the upper end of the county.

Marquis Max Strozzi MYSTERIOUS PERSON

COUNCIL MUST ELECT MAYOR

(Continued From First Page.)

who had served in the City Council within a year be eligible to election at the hands of the Council.

Dabney Enters Race.

At the City Hall last night where meetings were held, both of the Common Council and Board of Aldermen, the appointment of Mayor Richardson as judge of the Hastings court was the general topic of discussion. The Board Street paving matter was up for debate and the building was crowded with men prominent in city affairs.

Members of the Council were quietly discussing the prospects of candidates for the ground was William T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce and former member of the Board of Aldermen, who has already secured pledges of support from a number of members of both branches.

There was said to be a strong undercurrent in favor of former Mayor McCarthy, but in view of his outspoken criticisms of the Council at various times, some members were pronounced in their opposition. The more conservative members generally were making no pledges, refusing the overtures of the friends of Mr. Dabney until other candidates have shown themselves. L. Z. Morris, who is known as a "strong" man, has a strong support among business men, and if he entered the fight would make a formidable candidate.

McCarthy May Offer.

While former Mayor Carlton McCarthy is not a candidate for Mayor he will accept it if it is the wish of the City Council. He makes no secret of the fact that he had rather he Mayor of Richmond than to hold any other office, and said yesterday that the entire of his position and that of Governor of Virginia he would not hesitate two seconds, but would become the city's chief executive.

Captain McCarthy states that he will do nothing whatever to try to secure his election. But if the Council sees fit to choose him, he could not refuse. He is now one of the candidates for the Administrative Board, and his chances of nomination in the September primary have been considered good. Therefore, his withdrawal from this fight would lessen the number of candidates, and would, from this standpoint, be favored by the other aspirants.

The term of Captain McCarthy preceded that of Mayor Richardson, which is about to expire. His salary as Mayor would be less by $1,400 than if chosen to the Administrative Board. Soon after it became known that the Mayor had been appointed, many lawyers and business men suggested that McCarthy was a candidate for Mayor. Mr. Ansell did not authorize any announcement, and stated that he was not an avowed candidate, as reported.

Watch Repairing

Our watchmakers are experts in their line—and we give most service at the lowest possible cost.

Bring your watch here.

SCHWARZCHILD BROS.

Search of Family Records Does Not Support His Claims.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

—who, according to newspaper accounts, is on the eve of a marriage with Miss Linda Arnold, daughter of Olney Arnold, of Providence, former Democratic nominee for the Rhode Island governorship.

The young man is represented as head of the historic House of Strozzi, and as the owner of the famous palace of that name in Florence. Says the present head of the Strozzi family is Don Leone Strozzi, seventh Prince of Corsico and Duke of Badolza, a retired captain of the Italian navy, married to a daughter of the Princely House of Corsini.

Don Leone succeeded to the family honors on the death of his children's elder brother, the late Prince Piero Strozzi, in 1907, and has two daughters, Donna Antonietta, and Donna Beatrice, who have both already made their debut, but none have any children, the title will at his death pass to his brother, Don Roberto Strozzi, who is married, and a retired captain of Italian cavalry.

The two Strozzi brothers have a sister, Donna Luisa, married to Count Francesco Guicciardini, former Secretary of State and Cabinet Minister, and their mother, Donna Antonietta, Princess Strozzi, is a "Duchess of Palatino" or Dowager Queen Marguerite.

This completes the list of the living members of the noble House of Strozzi, the oldest family of the Patriarchate of Florence, its antiquity being greater than that of the medieval city itself, the name having been that of a family then already ancient, in the still existent records of the year 1202.

Nor does the famous Strozzi Palace at Florence belong, as alleged, to the young man who is styled in the papers as Marquis Max Strozzi. In fact, the palace, which was built by him, it is claimed, mentioned in his will that if ever his family were to become extinct, the palace should pass to the city of Florence.

The late Prince Piero di Strozzi, therefore, in bequeathing it with the consent of his two surviving brothers, to the city and state, was only following a tradition of his family, that great remote ancestor who created this great architectural marvel.

The Strozzi figure in almost every page of Italian history. One of them, as Lord Rector of the University of Florence in 1466, devoted a part of his fortune to the collection in Greece of ancient manuscripts, and it is to him that the world is indebted for the recovery and preservation of the "Iliad" and other works of Pindar.

Leonardo da Vinci, who was a friend of some thirty French ships which sailed for Scotland in a vain attempt to rescue Queen Mary, a short time before she fell into the hands of her cruel enemy, Queen Elizabeth.

Piero di Strozzi was assassinated on the eve of his marriage by Duke Alfonso I. of Ferrara, who was a love rival of his bride, Filippo di Strozzi, the admiral of the French fleet who, taken in battle off the Azores by the English, was killed. The Duke's plank, by the Spanish Admiral, Santa Cruz, Piero di Strozzi was killed as Marshal of France at the siege of Ravenna, and his death was the most famous of the Italian lives in history as the greatest adversary of Duke Cosmo di Medici. Imprisoned by the latter, and subjected to frightful tortures, he put a sudden end to his sufferings by seizing the sword of one of the guards, and running himself through the body before reaching the hands of his executioners.

The above is written in compliance with a request for information regarding the young man who is staying at the Hotel de la Ville at Paris, and who, since no mention of the Strozzi name is to be found in the pages of the Almanach de Gotha, or any work of reference, is not a member of the Princely House of Strozzi, which, as I have just explained, will become extinct on the death of the two sole surviving male members, Don Leone and Don Roberto. How the young man in question can be the head of the family, the owner of the palace, as stated in the paper, is difficult to understand. It might be therefore suggested that the parents of any American heiress whom he seeks in marriage, should first give their consent, secure either from the Italian embassy at Washington or from the head of the Government, Department of Affairs, where all the consular Hierarchies, where all the nobles of nobility are officially registered, an assurance that his marquisate finds a place among the nobiliary dignities of Italy. This recommendation is made because for some time past a young Swiss from the Italian-speaking Canton of Ticino, has been heard claiming himself off as a titled member of the House of Strozzi. (Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.)

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. Fletcher

WESTPOINT VA.

PORT RICHMOND

Offers the best chance for you to double your money quickly by investing in real estate.

LITTLE FRUIT FARMS

BIG MONEY MAKERS.

Address O. D. L. West Point, Va.

Thermos Bottles, $1.00 each.

The E. B. Taylor Co.

23 W. Broad Street and 1011 East Main Street.

Furniture, Carpets and Stoves

ROTHERT & CO.

Fourth and Broad

J. B. Mosby & Co.

White Goods 59c yard, reduced from 75c.

Office Furniture

Sydner & Hundley, Inc.

Grace and Seventh.

50c jar "Cream Lilac," fine for skin, 39c at

Tragle's

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND

Ladies Ask Your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Beware of cheap imitations. No other pills are so effective. No other pills are so safe. No other pills are so pleasant. No other pills are so reliable. No other pills are so famous. No other pills are so well known. No other pills are so sold by druggists everywhere.

Statute of Limitations Keeps Kiss from Mosby

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., July 30.—Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate soldier, who is visiting in Bristol, which was his home when he volunteered in the Civil War, to-night was given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lewis by the Bristol Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Several of his comrades were in attendance.

Colonel Mosby to-day informed a prominent Bristol woman, whom he knew as a girl, of her grandchild, who has him on his return from the war. He distinguished himself in the service. She confessed to the debt, but inquired if she could not, after more than fifty years, plead the statute of limitations.

Held on Robbery Charge.

County Policeman Bendall last night arrested a man who at first gave his name as John Thompson and later as Jim Long. He will be charged in the Magistrate's Court of Henrico county with breaking into the residence of E. E. Netting on the River Road and robbing the quarters of a foreman in the upper end of the county.

Marquis Max Strozzi MYSTERIOUS PERSON

COUNCIL MUST ELECT MAYOR

(Continued From First Page.)

who had served in the City Council within a year be eligible to election at the hands of the Council.

Dabney Enters Race.

At the City Hall last night where meetings were held, both of the Common Council and Board of Aldermen, the appointment of Mayor Richardson as judge of the Hastings court was the general topic of discussion. The Board Street paving matter was up for debate and the building was crowded with men prominent in city affairs.

Members of the Council were quietly discussing the prospects of candidates for the ground was William T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce and former member of the Board of Aldermen, who has already secured pledges of support from a number of members of both branches.

There was said to be a strong undercurrent in favor of former Mayor McCarthy, but in view of his outspoken criticisms of the Council at various times, some members were pronounced in their opposition. The more conservative members generally were making no pledges, refusing the overtures of the friends of Mr. Dabney until other candidates have shown themselves. L. Z. Morris, who is known as a "strong" man, has a strong support among business men, and if he entered the fight would make a formidable candidate.

McCarthy May Offer.

While former Mayor Carlton McCarthy is not a candidate for Mayor he will accept it if it is the wish of the City Council. He makes no secret of the fact that he had rather he Mayor of Richmond than to hold any other office, and said yesterday that the entire of his position and that of Governor of Virginia he would not hesitate two seconds, but would become the city's chief executive.

Captain McCarthy states that he will do nothing whatever to try to secure his election. But if the Council sees fit to choose him, he could not refuse. He is now one of the candidates for the Administrative Board, and his chances of nomination in the September primary have been considered good. Therefore, his withdrawal from this fight would lessen the number of candidates, and would, from this standpoint, be favored by the other aspirants.

The term of Captain McCarthy preceded that of Mayor Richardson, which is about to expire. His salary as Mayor would be less by $1,400 than if chosen to the Administrative Board. Soon after it became known that the Mayor had been appointed, many lawyers and business men suggested that McCarthy was a candidate for Mayor. Mr. Ansell did not authorize any announcement, and stated that he was not an avowed candidate, as reported.

Watch Repairing

Our watchmakers are experts in their line—and we give most service at the lowest possible cost.

Bring your watch here.

SCHWARZCHILD BROS.

Search of Family Records Does Not Support His Claims.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

—who, according to newspaper accounts, is on the eve of a marriage with Miss Linda Arnold, daughter of Ol